
RUSSIA TIMES

The Future of Our Schools: The New Law Made by Legislation

The meeting in the Federation council was recently held and the new law known as Novaya Shkola (New School) has just been created. The new law made by the directory of education has been created in the hopes of creating a better school curriculum through the reeducation of all students in the nation

The law states that all schools starting February 5, 2041 must have a full class period dedicated to enlightening all students of the horrors of the LGBT community. Other changes to the school system include longer class periods and 50 more days of school. These laws will be implemented into all schools including private schools and even home schooling.

When the meeting in the Federation Council took place many were hopeful for this law to pass. Many high council members were there including Nikolai Putin.

“I love this country and only want what is best. We must be united in our never ending fight to stop this terrible disease of homosexuality.” Said Nikoli Putin in his address after the law was passed.

Many councilmen such as Isaac Stolynslov and Lucas Leo are ecstatic for the new law and feel that this law will bring a better future for Russia and its people

It has been announced that all schools will be put on a new strict curriculum meant to educate and reform the next generation. This includes a variety of extra programs that will be mandatory in all schools such as purification processes for supposed gay students and reeducation processes meant to teach kids how bad the LGBT truly are.

Many schools have already begun to prepare for the new system and the principles and council members of these schools have generally no concerns.

The principle of Boris Highschool has announced his stance on this situation, “I love this new policy, the scum in our schools will finally be eradicated.” Support from the principals of schools have been seen throughout the nation.

Parents have also been in support of this law feeling it is a necessity for the government to help their children become correct and normal.

Mother of four Sofia Sarwacinski spoke out about how good this law truly is. She stated, “Thank God that the government has finally took a stance on this issue. I have always wanted my children to finally be secure and safe from the disgusting people in the LGBT community.”

The ministry of education and science has perceived this law as a victory for the ministry and a moment that will be remembered throughout history.

“Although the transition shall be difficult it is a necessity, with this new system we will be able to progress as a strong and proud society” said in his nationwide statement to the public.” The minister of education and science Egor Denisovich

The new law came through his ministry and with the acceptance by Nicholi, the enactment of the law has been created and is ready to be administered.

It has been announced that any school administrators that refuse to enact on this law will be replaced by government executives and put into Gulags.

Soro Dostoevsky, former principal of Slova Boga high, has recently been fired for refusing to accept this law. He feels that this law is unfair to his students and is an awful way for our future generation to function as a society.

Soro Dostoevsky stated, "How can our society survive if we cannot all work together? The answer we cannot. As the great philosopher Fyodor Dostoevsky said, 'To love someone means to see him as God intended him.' We must all work to function and progress"

The police force found Soro and he is currently imprisoned for speak against the government. He said that he knew he would be taken and he feels that it was worth it in order to speak the truth. He is in the Kolyma gulag camp which is notorious for crushing the souls of its prisoners.

Many others have been against this law and riots have been started in because of the law. In response to these riots Nikoli has stated that anyone who is defiant against the law will be imprisoned.

The city of Yugoslavic town, has had massive riots throughout the city and has attacked the police force in the town. Military action has been sent to the town and all people who partook in the riot has been either detained or shot.